

All Booked Up

May 2018

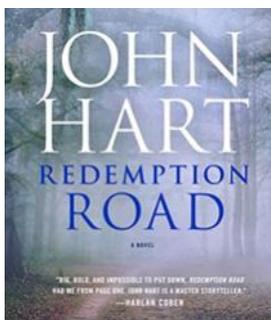

Windsor Library's
Newsletter
for Readers

Coming soon to a bookshelf near you:
(Place your hold today!)

Listen Up

Redemption Road by John Hart

A tour de force narrative from critically acclaimed, award-winning, New York Times bestselling author John Hart. Now Hart has written his most ambitious work to date. The novel features his first-ever female protagonist, Elizabeth Black, a recently probationed cop who must fight to keep her badge and stop an innocent man from being sent back to jail. There's more to Elizabeth than meets the eye, and the secrets she fiercely protects could be the source of her downfall. Add to this Hart's signature blend of a rich, atmospheric North Carolina setting, small town tension, family secrets, and the race to stop a serial killer.

Narrated by Scott Shepherd
Length: 15 hours

While You're Waiting For... The Great Alone by Kristin Hannah

In The Great Alone by the author of The Nightingale, Leni and her troubled family embark on a new way of life in Alaska's wilderness in 1974 – hoping this is finally the solution for her troubled, POW father. In Alaska, Leni and her family are tested and when change comes to their small community her father's anger threatens to explode and divide the town. This is a beautifully written novel, descriptive and engaging with well-developed characters and a strong sense of place.

While you're waiting for this popular title, try:

Our Endless Numbered Days* by Claire Fuller. Both of these engaging stories feature tough teenage girls shaped by the harsh environments they were forced to live in by their unhinged fathers. Desperate survival instincts and a twisted familial bond feature in both. -- Andrienne Cruz of Novelist

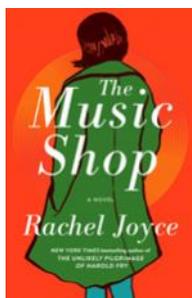

Discover more great reads on Novelist, an online resource for readers, at windsorlibrary.com.

Read All Booked Up from home! Sign up for our email newsletter at windsorlibrary.com.

Windsor Library Reading Challenge: Read a Music Book

The Summer Reading 2018 is Music and we would love to have you explore books about music and musicians with us this year. Below are things that you can enjoy!

The Music Shop* by Rachel Joyce

From the author of The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Fry comes a story about living through music. With the talent for connecting customers to their perfect song or album, Frank, the owner of a music shop in a suburban community, resists the chance of a relationship with a young woman who could heal the old wounds from his past.

The Noise of Time* by Julian Barnes (AB)

Although at least one critic believes Julian Barnes relied on questionable sources to paint a picture of Dmitri Shostakovich as victim, The Noise of Time is based in a very real time of great terror for artists in the Soviet Union. In 1936, Shostakovich was denounced as "an enemy of the people," and feared the knock on the door that would lead to imprisonment or execution. In 1937, he was told to report for interrogation, which he escaped only because his interrogator was arrested before his own appointment came. He began to keep a suitcase packed and to sleep in the stairwell "out of fear." Against this backdrop, he cancelled a performance of his fourth symphony as too risky. But his next work, Symphony No. 5, is a masterpiece that somehow manages to express both what Stalin would have wanted to hear--a stirring anthem to the heroic Soviet Worker--and the uncertainty, stress and grief that living in a constant state of fear during Stalin's Great Terror imposed on Soviet citizens. Imagine trying to create art that expresses passionate truth yet also satisfies propaganda, when the stakes are so dire. This is what Julian Barnes tries to do in The Noise of Time.

High Fidelity* by Nick Hornby

High Fidelity is the debut novel of the author that went on to write About a Boy, A Long Way Down, and more. It follows the love affairs and belated growing up of a "Generation X" pop music fanatic and record store owner. Don't miss the movie with John Cusack either.

The Beatles: All Our Yesterdays* by Jason Quinn

The Beatles are the world's most enduring and biggest rock band ever! This is the story of their struggle for success. Taking us through the early days of rock 'n' roll, and their lives in Liverpool during the 1950s, we journey with them to Hamburg as they come of age and through grit, determination and masses of talent became the lads who made the sixties swing!

Prince: Inside the Music and the Masks* by Ronin Ro

Prince Rogers Nelson's three decades in the music business make for an original tale in this era of corporate, American Idol-style pop stars. His rise and fall and rise is that of an artist who has followed his own path, sometimes infuriatingly so. Between the phenomenal success of 1984's Purple Rain and 2010's Dreamer, Prince has earned 33 Grammy nominations. Listed in Time magazine's 2010 annual ranking of the "100 Most Influential People in the World," Prince remains as controversial as he is iconic.

How Music Works* by David Byrne

The Rock-and-Roll Hall of Fame inductee and co-founder of Talking Heads presents a celebration of music that offers insight into the roles of time, place and recording technology, discussing how evolutionary patterns of adaptations and responses to cultural and physical contexts have influenced music expression throughout history and culminated in the 20th century's transformative practices. In this book he explores why the past matters and what the future might bring. From personal accounts of devising and performing his most famous work, to an exploration of the possibilities of new technologies, he discovers that artistic creation is less about an internal creative spark than we thought and more about external factors such as history, architecture and technology.

