Listen Up

Connie Goodwin is an expert on America's fractured past with witchcraft. A young, tenure-track professor in Boston, she's earned career success by studying the history of magic in colonial America--especially women's home recipes and medicines--and by exposing society's threats against women fluent in those skills. But beyond her studies, Connie harbors a secret: She is the direct descendant of a woman tried as a witch in Salem, an ancestor whose abilities were far more magical than the historical record shows. When a hint from her mother and clues from her research lead Connie to the shocking realization that her partner's life is in danger, she must race-years-long deadly curse.

Daughters of Temperance Hobbs by Katherine Howe

Narrated By Barrie Kreinik

Length: 11.5 hours

Spotlight On: Surviving Winter

"Winter survival stories"--as interpreted by three Windsor librarians--can mean various things. Meticulously researched, compelling fiction or nonfiction about surviving in a winter wilderness; exploring ways to slow down & enjoy life more even in mid-winter; cooking winter-hearty hot meals; or finding cozy activities perfect for doing inside on cold winter days. You get to choose!

The Mullah's Storm: A Novel by Thomas W. Young

An Air Force major and female Army translator battle for survival in Afghanistan after their transport plane with a high-value prisoner is shot down during a blizzard. Kirkus Review, which gave it a starred rating, calls it "a smart, unsettling, timely novel that puts a human face on the Afghanistan conflict while conveying the immense challenges the United States faces there."

Biting the Moon by Martha Grimes

She does not know who she is, where she's from, or how she got here. She wakes one morning in a bed-and-breakfast alone. She is told by the owner that she came in 'dead asleep' with her father. But she knows the man is not her father.

Escaping into the winter wilderness, she spends months learning to survive and trying to regain her memory. When she finds a friend, the two set out to find her "Daddy" and, they hope, clues to her past. A departure from her British Pub mysteries, this is one of Martha Grimes' most gripping tales.

The Child Finder by Rene Denfeld

Three years ago, Madison Culver, five years old, disappeared while her family was choosing a Christmas Tree in Oregon's Skookum National Forest. The family hires Naomi, a P.I. with a special talent for finding lost or missing children, having been one herself. Centered in the winter wilderness of the forest, Denfeld's story alternates between Naomi's investigation and an intricately woven tale told by an imaginative child. This staff favorite is a deeply moving, captivating story of survival on many levels.

The Little Book of Hygge: Danish Secrets to Happy Living by Meik Wiking

The Danes are famously the happiest people in the world, and hygge is a cornerstone of their way of life. Hygge (pronounce Hoo-ga) loosely translates as a sense of comfort, togetherness, and well-being. It is when you are cuddled up on the sofa with a loved one, or sharing comfort food with your closest friends. It is those crisp blue mornings when the light through your window is just right. It is about gratitude and savoring the simple pleasures in life. In short, it is the pursuit of everyday happiness. From picking the right lighting to organizing a Hygge get-together to dressing hygge, Wiking shows you how to experience more joy and contentment the Danish way.

Breaking Wild by Diane Les Becquets

Booklist Starred Review: Amy Latour is determined to bag an elk before hunting season is over. From a tree stand, she badly wounds a male elk and follows his trail. Consumed with finishing her task, she fails to notice the worsening conditions. Things go from bad to worse, and when she fails to return, an all-out search is launched. Ranger Pru Hathaway and her rescue dog, Kona, are part of the effort.

Skillfully blending the emotional terrain of women's fiction with a briskly paced adventure story, Les Becquets packs her narrative with fascinating details about hunting, the logistics of search-and-rescue, and the beauty and danger of the wilderness.

Adventures in slow cooking : 120 slow-cooker recipes for people who love food by Sarah DiGregorio

"I never knew my slow cooker could do that!" Nothing says surviving winter to me like making hearty, warm, easy meals. The slow cooker does all the work so that you can sit under a blanket and read.
